

DR. ZAYNA KHAYAT

Dr. Zayna Khayat is the Future Strategist with Saint Elizabeth Health Care, a national social enterprise providing home care, health solutions and education to people where they are and when they need it. In this role, she leads a team of innovators that is co-creating the future of health – a future where Canadians age with vitality and dignity, where people are more empowered, and where intelligence supports decisions.

Zayna is Faculty of Singularity University' Exponential Medicine stream since 2016. In 2017 she was seconded from MaRS Discovery District, an innovation hub in Toronto, Canada to the REshape Health Innovation Centre at Radboud university medical centre in Nijmegen, Netherlands. At the REshape Center, she was their "Innovation Sherpa in Chief", working on several key initiatives to strengthen the Dutch health innovation ecosystem. At MaRS in Toronto, Zayna lead the Health System Innovation platform from 2014 to 2017, helping smooth the path to adoption of health innovation by health and care systems in Canada and around the world.

Dr. Khayat is also an adjunct faculty with the Rotman School of Management in the Health Sector Strategy stream. Zayna completed her Ph.D. in biochemistry from the University of Toronto (2001), followed by a long career in strategy consulting, including as a Principal in the healthcare practice of The Boston Consulting Group (BCG).

Shorter Bio:

Zayna is the Future Strategist at Saint Elizabeth a health and social impact enterprise with a major focus on home care. In 2017, Zayna was on secondment from MaRS Discovery District, an innovation hub in Toronto, Canada to the REshape Health Innovation Centre at Radboud university medical centre in Nijmegen, Netherlands (January to December 2017). At the REshape Center, she was their “Innovation Sherpa in Chief”, working on several key initiatives to strengthen the Dutch health innovation ecosystem.

At MaRS, Zayna lead the Health System Innovation platform from 2014 to 2017, helping smooth the path to adoption of health innovation by health and care systems in Canada and around the world.

Zayna is adjunct faculty with the Rotman School of Management in the Health Sector Strategy stream.

Zayna completed her Ph.D. in biochemistry from the University of Toronto (2001), followed by a long career in strategy consulting, including as a Principal in the healthcare practice of The Boston Consulting Group (BCG).

Dr. Khayat has been on the Faculty of Singularity University (Exponential Medicine) since 2016.

